

2024 INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH COURSE

This course is aimed at anyone with an interest in research. No assumed knowledge is required & the course is suitable for those wanting to better understand how research is undertaken. New information will be offered for previous participants.

IDEAL FOR Nurses,
Allied Health,
Pharmacy &
Medical Staff

Attendance available for THS South participants via Teams

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

- An appreciation of why and how health professionals can be actively involved in research.
- An introduction to major research methods (quantitative & qualitative), study design, introduction to biostatistics & data management.
- Information & practice in preparing a research protocol & writing an ethics application.
- The process of having research published.

Times and Topics

Venue: Lecture Theatre, Level 2, LGH

Course duration: Every Monday, starting April 8
(6 sessions in total), 5pm-6.30pm

Date	Time	Title
8 April	5pm-6.30pm	Research Design & Theory
15 April	5pm-6.30pm	Qualitative Research Methods
22 April	5pm-6.30pm	Quantitative Research Methods
29 April	5pm-6.30pm	Biostatistics
6 May	5pm-6.30pm	Ethics & Governance
13 May	5pm-6.30pm	Completing a Research Project & Publishing Your Work

 Order of presentations may change **

Registration

To register your intention of attending or for further information:

✉ Email: admin@cliffordcraig.org.au

☎ Phone: 03 6777 6010